Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

This action is in response to papers filed on December 19, 2005.

Claims 1, 11 and 21 have been amended.

Claims 1-30 are pending.

Claims 1-30 are rejected.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-3,5,10-13,15, 20-23, 25 and 30 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent 5,459,306 Stein et al; Method and System for Delivering on Demand, Individually targeted promotions.

3. As to claims 1, 11 and 21 Stein teaches identifying the consumer and matching products to the products consumer identified and indicating which products are associated.(C. 2 I. 65-67 and C. 2 I. 25-27). and displaying information at a kiosk in the store(C7 I. 64-65 and C. 8 I. 21-23).

4. As to claims 2, 12 and 22 Stein teaches a unique user code(C. 2 I. 66-67).

5. As to claims 3, 13 and 23 Stein teaches a database storing the information(C. 4 I. 4-12).

6. As to claims 5, 15 and 25 Stein teaches identifying which products that match with promotional text.

7. As to claims 10, 20 and 30 Stein teaches identifying if the products are in stock(C. 4 l. 57-59)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

9. Claims 4, 6-9, 14, 16-19 24 and 26-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over US Patent 5,459,306 Stein et al as applied to claim s 1-3,10-12, 20-22 and 30 above, and further in view of www.alerts.com retrieved from wayback machine anylinkage February 29, 2000. Hereinafter referred to as alerts.

10. As to claims 4, 14 and 24 Stein teaches matching products based on user preferences but fails to identify the specific preferences. Alerts teaches preferences being a preferred stock price . It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of invention to combine the teachings of alerts with Stein so as to make the method versatile for all aspects of e-commerce and all user preferences.

11. As to claims 6-9, 16-19 and 26-29 Stein teaches notifying the user of the matching products however, Stein fails to teach how the user is notified. Alerts teaches notifying the user via email to several different devices. It would have been obvious to one skilled the art at the time of invention to combine the teachings of Alerts with Stein so as to allow the user to receive their notifications in what ever manner that is most convenient for the user.

Response to Arguments

12. Applicant's arguments filed December 19, 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., display unit physically near or mounted on display) are not recited in the previously rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

13. In response to applicants arguments regarding rejections under 35 USC 101 examiner notes rejection has been withdrawn in view of ex parte Lundgren.

Conclusion

14. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

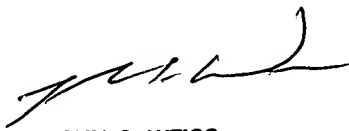

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
